Effective - Industry award winning antivirus protection from ESET provides home users with the most effective, proactive antivirus protection available on the market.

Fast - ESET antivirus software is super fast consuming only 48MBs of memory, so if you are replacing existing antivirus software, you may find your computer operating faster.

Simple - Install in minutes, operate in seconds and let the software maintain and update itself for you.

Support - All our customers benefit from free UK-Based technical support 7 days a week to assist with installation, removal of other antivirus suites and any other concerns.

Key Benefits:

Protects you and your family: Award –winning technology uses various techniques, including a form of artificial intelligence to detect un-catalogued threats. Combined with our firewall it ensures safety from new viruses.

Keeps your machine running fast: Designed to be lightning fast, so fast you do not even notice it is there. Even intensive operations like performing a “full disk scan” happens in the background without affecting your computer speed.

Improves machine performance: Fast and light typically using a fraction of memory compared with other products. Switching to ESET Smart Security can be like buying new hardware. Plus laptop users benefit from extended battery life.

Clean your existing infections: typically when a new install of ESET Smart Security replaces another Internet Security it detects previously undetected viruses on the machine.

Free UK-based phone support: If you have any problems as a new or existing ESET customer, you have free access to our excellent UK-based technical support team 7 days a week.

Free protection for additional OS: our new unlicensing model allows you to use one license to protect a range of platforms on one machine without the need to buy further licenses.

How does it work?

With ESET, you will not have to wait for your antivirus scan to finish before your computer starts up. As revealed in this antivirus comparison test, ESET consistently has the lowest impact on system performance and the least memory usage among leading antivirus solutions, as per tests performed by independent organisations
